

What is a Dual Credit Course?

A dual credit course is one recognized and granted credit by both a high school and a post-secondary institution. Although it is offered at the high school level, a dual credit is usually a college or university class. Typically, it is delivered by a post-secondary instructor with additional learning and technical supports offered by the DLC instructor. These courses carry a heavier work load and assessments are held to a higher standard than in a regular high school course.

All dual credit course materials are accessible online. Course layout and structure will vary as each was developed by a different educator and/or stem from different post-secondary institutions. These courses require a high degree of independent study with occasional group work that will be coordinated by the instructor.
